

NATIVE LANGUAGE EDUCATION – APPLICATION

A student who has a parent/guardian speaking a native language other than Swedish must be offered native language education if:

- it is the student's everyday language at home
- the student has a good knowledge of the language

Classes can start if there are at least five students who wish to study their native language and a suitable teacher is available.

Native language education in a national minority language (Finnish, Yiddish, Meänkieli, Romani Chib and Sami), or if the student is an adopted child, is offered even if the language is not the student's everyday language at home.

Classes can then be organized even if the number of students is less than five.
